Canvas Health Therapeutic/Educational Programs

Therapeutic Learning Center. (TLC)

Day treatment services are developed and provided in a center-based daily therapeutic and educational environment for children ages 11 to 15 whose mental health needs are impacting learning and school attendance. Children attend this program daily during normal school hours, including summer sessions, and are referred by school districts. Services take place in the middle school of the Canvas Health mental health center.

P.L.A.C.E. Program (People Learning A Cooperative Existence Together).

This is a day program for adolescents and is collaboration between school districts, Washington County Community Corrections and Canvas Health. Youth, referred through Community Corrections, receive daily education and a skills-based curriculum that focuses on changing delinquent behavioral patterns and returning them to their community school.

Therapeutic Assistance Program (TAP)

TAP is a school-based program which provides mental health services, including diagnostic assessments and therapy services, to eligible students and their families. Offered at a variety of schools in the greater Twin Cities metro area, the program is a collaborative effort between school psychologists, school social workers, teachers and multiple mental health providers.

Children's Hospital of Minnesota - (651) 220-6000

<http://www.childrensmn.org/services/behavioral-health>

At Children's Hospitals and Clinics of Minnesota, we understand that being a kid isn't always fun and games. Sometimes there are obstacles along the way. Our behavioral health professionals are here to help children navigate those obstacles. We offer help with a wide range of behavioral and mental health concerns.

Each year, we care for more than 17,000 children and adolescents in our behavioral services program. Our team of psychologists, psychiatrists, neuropsychologists, nurse practitioners who are board certified pediatric mental health specialists and social workers is experienced in treating the special needs of children. And we focus on treatments that have been proven effective through research. Our clinicians are trained and experienced in using the most current diagnostic tools and interventions.

The behavioral health program at Children's Hospitals and Clinics of Minnesota diagnose and treat a wide range of mental health issues in children and teens, including:

- Depression, Anxiety and fears
- Attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD)
- Problems at school
- Behavioral problems, such as temper tantrums, defiance or rule-breaking
- Reactions to life changes, such as divorce, death or other traumatic events
- Follow-up after head injuries such as an accident or stroke
- Living with a chronic illness, such as asthma, diabetes or cancer

- Group Therapy, Family Therapy
- Educational And Psychological Testing
- Case Management And School Assistance

The Child Adolescent Intensive Outpatient Program (IOP)

IOP provides active, intensive therapeutic services in a coordinated and structured environment. Since this treatment is designed to work with children and adolescents, we consider each individual’s cognitive, emotional, developmental, family and spiritual needs while thoroughly evaluating all underlying psychiatric conditions.

Patients may be admitted to IOP from a hospital, an emergency department or may be starting treatment in IOP directly. Parents, teachers, doctors, therapists, counselors, or family may also refer patients to the IOP.

Aris Clinic Educational Services

Educational services provided by Northeast Metro 916 to students in care and treatment programs are evidence-based and aligned with state and national standards. The following four core areas are addressed: Language Arts, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies. The services provided may include direct instruction, online learning, or a combination of direct instruction and guided study. After discharge, a credit hour summary with both academic and therapeutic hours will be sent to the home school district. Student’s home district reserves the right to determine credits earned.

Avanti Care for Adolescent Girls - 763-230-7470

<http://www.voamnwi.org/avanti>

Avanti Center for Girls offers a continuum of shelter, evaluation and residential treatment services. Avanti uses Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT) to treat adolescent girls, ages 13-18, experiencing mental health crisis. Diagnoses include depression, anxiety, post-traumatic stress and emerging personality disorders which often present as self-injurious behavior and frequent hospitalizations for suicidal ideation and attempts. Family involvement is incorporated into all stages of treatment.

Treatment Program

Avanti's treatment program is six to nine months long, consisting of four stages, focusing on safety and behavior stabilization, skills acquisition and successful re-integration back into the child's home and school environment. Avanti's programming is a modification of DBT, applied throughout the treatment program. The model for our program is based on research done by Marsha Linehan, Jill Rathus and Alec Miller as described in the manual, Dialectical Behavior Therapy with Suicidal Adolescents. The manual is based on treatment in an outpatient setting which we have adapted for our residential program.

Avanti's Educational Services

Avanti's on-site school, called Willows, is overseen by Northeast Metro Intermediate School District 916, which manages classrooms in a variety of treatment settings. Education services at Willows are highly individualized and coordinated with the resident's home district, allowing as little disruption in school progress as possible. As residents progress in treatment, we do offer off-site alternatives to assist with re-integration into a mainstream school setting. Decisions regarding school setting are made in collaboration with the resident and their parents, Willow's staff and Avanti's treatment team.

The Emily Program - 888-364-5977

<https://www.emilyprogram.com/>

Founded in 1993, The Emily Program has become nationally recognized for our compassionate and personalized approach to eating disorder awareness, treatment, and lifetime recovery. At The Emily Program, we treat people of all ages and all genders who struggle with anorexia nervosa, bulimia nervosa, binge eating, compulsive overeating, obesity, and other specified feeding and eating disorders.

Services:

- Individual therapy
- Group therapy
- Intensive outpatient programs
- Nutritional evaluation and counseling
- Family and couples therapy
- Co-occurring disorder therapy
- Integrative interventions, such as yoga or art therapy

Options Residential (952) 564-3030

<http://www.optionsres.com/>

Options Residential rehabilitates and provides a structured environment for those who have a diagnosis of Brain Injury, Mental Illness and/or Substance Abuse Problems. They assist people to gain skills to reduce their need for services and live more independently.

Treatment Program

Options sets out on the path of rehabilitation working with the individual, family, and their treatment team. This path is different for each individual with differing timelines. The ultimate goal is to work with each individual to become as independent as they can be. This may be managing their mental health, recognizing triggers and the need for continued recovery. Their history demonstrates the ability to evolve with the changing needs of the individuals they work with.

Suicide Awareness Voices of Education SAVE

<http://www.save.org/>

SAVE was one of the nation's first organizations dedicated to the prevention of suicide and was a co-founding member of the National Council for Suicide Prevention. Our history and growth from an all-volunteer, small grassroots group of passionate survivors led us to what is one of today's leading national not-for-profit organizations with staff dedicated to prevent suicide. This site, along with our work, is based on the foundation and belief that suicide should no longer be considered a hidden or taboo topic and that through raising awareness and educating the public, we can SAVE lives.

Kids Health

www.kidshealth.org

If you're looking for information you can trust about kids and teens that's free of "doctor speak," you've come to the right place. KidsHealth is the most-visited site on the Web for information about health, behavior, and development from before birth through the teen years. This site is four sites in one: with sections for parents, for kids, for teens, and for educators.

KidsHealth is more than just the facts about health. KidsHealth also provides families with perspective, advice, and comfort about a wide range of physical, emotional, and behavioral issues that affect children and teens. All KidsHealth articles, animations, games, and other content go through a rigorous medical review by pediatricians and other medical experts. Ongoing, scheduled medical reviews ensure that the information is as up-to-date as possible.
